How we got here

- The First Nations-in-Assembly overwhelmingly rejected a draft Final Settlement Agreement (FSA) because it would not genuinely end systemic discrimination and was overly bureaucratic.
- The draft FSA was seen as an extension of a burdensome bureaucratic regime that was inconsistent with the best interests of First Nations children.
- Funding commitments in the draft FSA were subject to annual parliamentary appropriation, and any other budgetary decision – which does not guarantee stable, long-term funding.

The National Children's Chiefs Commission

Resolutions 60/2024 and 61/2024 directed the AFN Executive Committee to establish the National Children's Chiefs Commission:

Governance and Transparency of the LTR Agreements for the FNCFS Program and Jordan's Principle

2. Direct the Assembly of First Nations (AFN) Executive Committee to adopt the following approach to the LTR Agreements negotiations:
 - a. establish a national Children's Chiefs Commission with representation appointed by every region (including regions not represented by the AFN) that will work openly and transparently to provide strategic direction and oversight of the LTR Agreements negotiations, reporting back to the First Nations-in-Assembly;
 - b. the Children's Chiefs Commission will establish a negotiation team, with regional representation and a new legal team, that will be responsible for carrying out the negotiations for the LTR Agreements under the direction of, and reporting to, the Children's Chiefs Commission;

CHRT Overview:

Caring Society
and AFN
–VS–
Canada

The Canadian Human Rights Tribunal (CHRT) confirmed Canada's discrimination in 2016 – Canada knew what they were doing and kept doing it anyway. It needs to stop.

Nearly 30 non-compliance and procedural orders by the CHRT and Federal Court have followed.

Until there is evidence otherwise, the CHRT retains jurisdiction to ensure Canada is not discriminating.

The CHRT orders are binding on Canada.

NCCC Webinar Questions Round 1

What has the NCCC done?

1. Established the National Children's Chiefs Commission
2. Bringing Canada back to Negotiations
3. Developed Negotiation positions aligned with direction from First Nations

Establishing the Commission: Composition

- Chair (Chief Pauline Frost) & Co-Chair (Deb Foxcroft)
- Negotiating team (5 negotiators with broad & deep expertise representing First Nations across Canada)
- Legal counsel (Scott Smith, Liam Smith - *no relation)
- Secretariat support (Our Children Our Way)
- Technical support
- Representation from 11 regions, including non-AFN Nations

Establishing the Commission: Funding

- April 2025 Workplan and $8.8 million budget submitted to Canada via AFN covering:
 - Regional costs, including technical supports;
 - Secretarial support costs;
 - Remuneration / costs for negotiating team.
 - Legal Fees
- NCCC budget should be covered under the Consultation Protocol in 2018 CHRT 4. Canada is unilaterally trying to change this protocol.
- Funding to cover budget not yet secured – AFN & Canada have discussed this without the NCCC. While they have committed to providing detailed notes of those discussions, this has not yet been received after 8 months.

Communications with Canada

- NCCC Letters to Canada:

- January 22: Legal counsel request to meet
- January 24: Proposal to draft a letter of commitment (ensure negotiations after election)
- February 21: Additional details re: letter of commitment (negotiation starting points)
- March 19: Congrats to PM Carney: here are immediate steps toward long-term reform
- June 3: Congrats to Minister Gull-Masty: reiterate call to resume negotiations with NCCC
- July 26: Joint letter with AFN, Caring Society, NCCC - Calling Canada back to negotiate
- July 28: CHRT suggested that Canada meet with NCCC – request for meeting
- July 30: “Canada will work towards Nations asserting their jurisdiction”

- Canada’s reply: “There is confusion regarding the role of the National Children’s Chiefs Commission.”
- Caring Society’s Consultation Motion (litigation to compel Canada to return to negotiations)

NCCC Webinar Questions Round 2

Developing Negotiation Positions

10 Outstanding Issues:

- | | |
|----------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 1. Funding Commitment | 6. Regional variations |
| 2. CHRT Jurisdiction | 7. C-92, Treaty, Self-Government |
| 3. Governance | 8. Confidentiality |
| 4. Departmental reform | 9. Definitions & Principles |
| 5. Accountability measures | 10. Term |

Canada has ignored the Commission's proposal to negotiate a Letter of Commitment and the NCCC's submission of these outstanding issues.

How were the NCCC Positions Developed?

- The resolutions passed by AFN member Nations
- Evidence from research and experts
- Comments from rights holders at SCA last year
- Support sought from non-AFN First Nations
- Regional feedback via Commissioners

 Let's Chat!

The Chiefs in Assembly were very clear that their rejection wasn't all about the money - although solid funding certainly helps!

Each area of concern has a dedicated team that is focused on bringing together the best possible solutions for that issue to the negotiation table. They are hard at work researching, gathering input, and developing strategies to address the concerns raised by the Rights Holders and the Chiefs in Assembly. The "opening positions" below came from the resolutions approved by the Nations in Assemble. As research is completed, information will be added.

Choose an issue below to learn more. If you have ideas or are aware of resources on any of these issues, please fill out the form through the link at the bottom of the page. The questions asked will change depending on which issue you want to discuss, but you will always be given space to speak freely as well as answer the questions. Please leave your name if you want - your Nation is required to ensure Rights Holders have their say.

Successes

Support received by (most) AFN Regional Chiefs

Support resolutions received from Nations & Treaty Organizations

Letters and direct advocacy with Canada to honour First Nations directions re: national reform

AFN appointment of portfolio holder: Regional Chief Joanna Bernard

Built connections across CHRT related tables (EAC, NAC, JPOC)

CHRT suggested (twice) that Canada meet with NCCC

NCCC website for transparency & feedback created

NCCC and Caring Society finally sent a letter to Canada calling on it to come back to the table in good faith in July

Line by line technical reviews of the DFSA

Line by line technical review of the Ontario agreement

NCCC appointees, administrative and strong legal team despite lack of funding

Challenges

Canada's failure to come back to the table. No mandate to negotiate a National Agreement.

Commission Funding: No commitment from Canada received.

Lack of proactive action by the AFN to implement resolutions and support the Commission.

The Commission not having standing at CHRT. the Commission needs a mechanism in place to ensure all future submissions to the CHRT are supportive of the Commission's mandate.

Expert Advisory Committee and National Advisory Committees not being formally convened or supported to fulfill their mandate.

Divisive Approaches

- Fasken Opinion – NCCC Resolutions not Constitutional (Requested by AFN, not released to Nations)
- AFN taking no legal positions at the CHRT
- Canada using AFN disinterest and inactivity as an excuse to not meet with NCCC
- AFN actively frustrating the NCCC's efforts
- Canada has not renewed negotiation mandate

NCCC Webinar Questions Round 3

Next Steps
